

Introduction to Blending

Last Modified on 04/20/2022 10:28 am CDT

The Agvance Blending module is a powerful tool that helps streamline the blending process. This module provides the ability to create and send a Blend Ticket as well as update any information from the original ticket increasing the accuracy and reliability of the blending process. It also assists in automating and simplifying the invoicing process with the ability to add an Invoice and import the Blend Ticket. After the Blend Ticket is saved, a custom application sheet may be printed and sent to the custom applicator, who can fill in the field information and the weather related conditions at the time the field was applied. This document can then be kept on record at the office if there is any need for reference to the information at a later time. Agvance Blending is designed to build a detailed field application history. By establishing each individual field for every grower, records can be accessed from previous seasons to better serve customers.